Disaster Assistance Available for Small Businesses

Sacramento, CA - Small, non-farm businesses in 18 Colorado counties (plus contiguous counties in Kansas, Nebraska and New Mexico) may now apply for low interest disaster loans from the U. S. Small Business Administration (SBA). These loans offset economic losses because of reduced revenues to farmers and ranchers caused by drought, crop diseases and insect infestations in the counties of Huerfano, Kiowa, Las Animas and Sedgwick beginning February 1, 2005 announced Alfred E. Judd, Director of SBA's Disaster Field Operations Center - West.

Small businesses in the following primary and neighboring counties may apply:

Primary Colorado counties: Huerfano, Kiowa, Las Animas and Sedgwick;
Contiguous Colorado counties: Alamosa, Baca, Bent, Cheyenne, Costilla, Crowley, Custer, Lincoln, Logan, Otero, Phillips, Prowers, Pueblo and Saguache;
Contiguous Kansas county: Greeley;
Contiguous Nebraska counties: Cheyenne, Deuel, Keith and Perkins;
Contiguous New Mexico counties: Colfax and Union.

Small businesses may qualify for Economic Injury Disaster Loans (EIDLs) of up to $1.5 million to help meet financial obligations and operating expenses which could have been met had the disaster not occurred. "Eligibility for these loans is based on the financial impact of the disaster only and not on any actual property damage. These loans have an interest rate of 4%, a maximum term of 30 years, and are restricted to small businesses without the financial ability to offset the adverse impact without hardship," Judd said.

By law, SBA makes EIDLs available when the U. S. Secretary of Agriculture designates an agricultural disaster. Secretary Mike Johanns declared these disasters at the request of Governor Bill Owens.

Businesses primarily engaged in farming or ranching are ineligible for SBA disaster assistance. Agricultural enterprises should contact the Farm Services Agency (FSA) about the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) assistance made available by the Secretary's declaration. However, in drought disasters nurseries are eligible for SBA disaster assistance.
